Holiday Vibes

As many of you may know, Almut and I were recently away for a week in Cuba with Almut's sister, Elke, and brother-in-law, Martin – yes, that Martin Hack whom you know from his beef products that we offer in the Store. Thank you to Aurélie and Barnhild as well as Sheri and Kyla for looking after things so well during our absence. Although Cuba is blessed with a climate allowing for a year-round growing season, hurricane Melissa that passed through in November caused a lot of damage to crops such as bananas, avocados, papayas, mangoes and many fresh vegetables. This obviously affected the normally rich variety of culinary delights offered at our resort. However, the beautiful weather and beaches, and the sincere friendliness of the Cubans and their zealous creativity more than made up for any presumptive shortcomings and underlined our jovial holiday vibes.

Once again, thank you to all our faithful customers for supporting us, a local, independent, non-corporate family business, and all our like-minded local farmers, growers and suppliers.

We wish you a wonderful festive season, Merry Christmas, and your choosing of Happy Holidays,

Wolfgang, Almut, Aurélie, Barnhild, Sheri & Kyla
